● BROOKLINE HIGH SCHOOL

BROOKLINE, MASSACHUSETTS

3 1712 01439 6439

Since the 1946 Murivian was to be the first Brookline High School year-book to be published after the end of World War II, the staff at first considered using the war as the theme for the book. We soon realized, however, that although the battle against the Fascist nations had affected the lives of all of us, the most important consideration for high school students about to take their place in the world as adults was the peace following the global conflict. It was with these thoughts in mind that we chose to use both war and the peace as the theme for the 1946 Murivian.

On the cover of the book appears a dove, the universal symbol of peace, while through a series of drawings we have attempted to portray high school life in peace time. On the senior pages are depicted many of the important events which led to our military victory. This group ends with a picture of the United Nations Conference in April, 1945, expressing the hope for unity among the Allies and for continued world peace.

"We of the United Nations are not making all this sacrifice of human effort and human lives to return to the kind of world we had after the last World War. We are fighting today for security, for progress, and for peace, not only for ourselves, but for all men, not only for one generation but for all generations."

FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT
October 12, 1942

DEDICATION

The 1946 "MURIVIAN" is dedicated to the graduates of
Brookline High School
who have given their lives in the service of their country.

WILFRED H. RINGER

Headmaster

During his fifteen years as Headmaster, Mr. Ringer has done so much for Brookline High School that it is with deep regret that the entire student body views his departure. Under his auspices, the House System was instituted, student government was greatly furthered, and the present system of student guidance has been developed. It was also under his direction that the school was re-organized after the fire of 1936. His record does not stop with these and other important accomplishments for our school, however. Mr. Ringer has found time to become a leader in our community life, heading such organizations as the Rotary Club of Brookline and the local chapter of the War Parents of America. His abilities were recognized by his election as President of the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

Mr. Ringer would like to present these parting thoughts to the graduating class of 1946:

"Graduates of 1946:

Every great crisis in our national history has witnessed the breaking of the pattern by which we once organized and directed our lives. These times of decision have been dynamic periods. If we are to be true to our tradition as once more revealed to us, we will not attempt to recreate the past, but will fashion a new and better pattern.

You, therefore, become the architects of a new world.

As you build, you must make choices. Their effect upon life will shape the centuries ahead. Each of you will play some part in this human drama.

We who have stood with you in the years that are past will be ready to serve at your call. As you ask His guidance, may lives of richness and abundance be yours. Godspeed in the new world of your making."

MARY W. SAWYER
Dean of Girls

To the Graduating Class of 1946,

My most cordial good wishes go with you all as you face the future.

In some ways your problems are harder than those faced by graduates of the war years. There is no longer the challenge that comes to the individual while the fighting is going on, but the individual's responsibility is even greater in the difficult readjustment to peace. It is as true now as it has always been that "where there is no vision the people perish." Have you the courage, the determination, the self-discipline, and the patience to "follow the gleam" wherever it may lead? For it is no small task to which you are summoned. Always is youth attended on his way "by the vision splendid." Keep your dreams and do not let them fade too soon "into the light of common day"!

May true happiness be yours as you move "ever onward" to a very real success!

Cordially yours,

MARY W. SAWYER
Dean of Girls

WENDELL F. SMITH
Shailer Housemaster

To the graduating class of 1946 belongs the unique honor of functioning for three years while a total war was in progress. That the curriculum of Brookline High School was altered to meet existing conditions, you know. It was inevitable that a period of confusion and experimentation should follow our entry into the war. Yet you, as members of the class of 1946, met this transition with responsibility and cooperation. You did everything in your power to let your patriotism grow into an active working force in the school, the town and on the field of battle itself.

And now, as seniors, you are the first graduating class in this post-war period. Much depends upon your attitude toward the grave problems which now confront us. I hope that the tradition of Brookline High — the tradition of tolerance and understanding, based on knowledge, will serve you well. Ideas and ideals are more necessary to strengthen democracy in our new world than the power of weapons. Yesterday your country fought with guns; tomorrow her weapons will be your ideas and ideals. May God give you "to see the right, to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations."

717 Arriving in Boston Shout for Latest Developments on Jap Offer to Surrender

Allied Carrier Planes Bag 138 of Foe's—Fight Off Attempt to Attack Our Fleet

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13 (AP)—The Japanese Domei Agency broadcast tonight that the Japanese Cabinet had been in continuous session "until late Monday night" and that the reply to the Allied unconditional surrender demand "probably will be available as soon as legal procedures are completed."

The Domei broadcast from Tokyo, directed toward the United States and recorded by the Federal Communications Commission and the American Broadcasting Co., said the Cabinet had gone into session Monday as soon as it received the Allied reply to the Japanese surrender offer.

The Japanese contended that this reply was not received until Monday morning although the Swiss, who transmitted it, said it was delivered earlier.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14, Tuesday (AP)—Allied patience wore thin today as Japanese stalling dragged out the war another 24 hours. The possibility of terrible new destruction grew with the weary waiting for Tokyo to accept Allied terms of surrender.

Last Will and Testament

Be it known, that we, the members of the Class of one thousand nine hundred and forty-six of the Brookline High School, being of tired body and doubtful mind, do hereby declare this to be our Last Will and Testament.

After payments have been made for our prom tickets, Murivians, and other just debts, we do hereby give, dedicate and bequeath as follows:

I Unto future classes we leave our veneer of sophistication, our supercilious attitudes, our affected savoir-faire, and the forlorn hope that they will carefully avoid our example.

II Unto the Juniors we leave the warning that the filing of an application is not the hardest part of the College Entrance Exams.

III Unto the Sophomores we bequeath our nebulous wisdom, our crumbled castles in the air, and—the right to date with upper classmen.

IV Unto the Freshman we leave nothing, for the reason that we cannot see them, having misplaced our microscope.

V Drawing on the culture we have absorbed, we dedicate the following movies:
The Enchanted Cottage—Municipal Gym
Sing Your Way Home—Bob Peters
Blithe Spirit—Mr. Flemings
Follow That Woman—Al Sinoff
The Men in Her Life—Betty Wolff

    Joel Leavitt and Sue Marcus
    Murray Pearlstein and Dodo Stein
    Bob Becker and Ricky Brandt
The White Tower—Barbara Baker

CLASS SONG

Words and Music
by Myron S. Raymond

once more we pause in your spa—cious halls for our last good—bye, and Re——luc—tant—ly must we leave be hind all that we have known, of back—ward gaze on joy-cus days with you dear Brook-line High, your child-hood days and care-free ways to a-dult hood we've grown, our pa—tient tea-chings will guide us on tho' our path be drear, you che-rished mem'ries will bind our hearts to the home we knew, though filled our youth with hope and truth to light each fu-ture year.
years take wing we'll ne-ver sing our last good-bye to you.

GRADUATING CLASS OFFICERS

SEATED: Sapers, Mr. Smith, Nahigian.

STANDING: Cappers, Becker.

President's Speech

Throughout our land, boys and girls graduating from high schools are keenly aware of their responsibility in the forming of a free and peaceful world. Those who responded so magnificently to the call of our country did their bit, and did it well—but the job is far from finished. As we look about us and see nations pitted against nations, — people against people, we realize there is still much to be done. There is a task facing us and others who are about to enter into fields of greater learning. It directs us to acquire this greater learning so that we may have better understanding — better understanding of our fellow men, so that we may be more cognizant of the rights of others, so that we may be more tolerant of those less fortunate than we.

We of the class of 1946 have inherited a share in the job of making this a better world, a world of peace, the kind of world our brothers fought for.

Our parents and teachers have worked hard to mold our characters, to instill in us those ideals that will make us better citizens, and to lay the foundations on which we can continue to build successfully. We are deeply grateful to them, to Mr. Ringer, and to our good friend Mr. Smith, who has guided us so devotedly through these formative years. In appreciation of their efforts, we, the class of '46, do hereby pledge our solemn adherence to their ideals, and promise that the banner of the class of '46 will ever be prominent in the furtherance of this most important task our country and our world places before us.

My sincerest thanks to you, my classmates, for the honor you bestowed upon me when you elected me your president. I have tried to fulfill the trust you placed in me, and any degree of success was due mainly to the splendid co-operation you gave me.

It is difficult to say "Good-bye" to the friends we have made during our high-school years, but I know that the memories of these years will not be forgotten. May we continue to meet often to maintain these friendships. May wisdom and understanding guide us all to a world of everlasting peace.

Activities

MURIVIAN EDITORIAL STAFF

Layouts, write-ups, pictures, statistics, deadlines, and a thousand and one other details kept this year's able and energetic editorial staff fully occupied. Surely the student reading this 1946 year book should appreciate what a full time project producing the "Murivian" is! The entire staff, consisting mostly of Seniors, assisted by some very able Junior Apprentices, is to be complimented on the congeniality of its members in accomplishing this fine job for the enjoyment of the entire student body. Such a thing as a school year book serves as a memorandum of the most enjoyable days of one's life—high school days. Due to this fact we sincerely believe that the "Murivian" has been and will continue to be one of the most outstanding institutions in Brookline High.

MURIVIAN BUSINESS STAFF

It was said, "It seldom happens that men of a studious turn acquire any degree of reputation for their knowledge of business." How little the older writer knew! The "Murivian" Business Staff has earned a noteworthy reputation. Who but they could manage so well that this epistle sells for a mere pittance? Who but they could work with lists, statistics, money, banks and have all their books balance? The Business Staff could well paraphrase the old Yankee saying,

"Money makes the mare go", To
"Money makes the 'Murivian go."

ACTING WORKSHOP

So you want to act? Well, this is the place. Everybody gets a chance and along with the work involved all have a swell time. The Acting Workshop is a sub-division of the Dramatic Society and it is here that future Barrymores and Davises learn the fundamentals of acting. Everyone gets an opportunity to show his abilities, as there is more than one cast for each play.

All members don't expect to crash Hollywood or Broadway but it is surprising what one can learn from this association with the theatre. The essentials of performing on the stage, such as self-confidence and poise are yours if you're willing to put in a little hard work. It's worth it.

AERO CLUB

It's Superman! It's a bird! No, it's a B. H. S. model aeroplane! Zooming over the buildings of Brookline High School, the plane alights in the quadrangle. Under the expert guidance of Mr. Warren, Faculty Advisor, and Edward Segal, President, the group learns the mechanics of aeroplanes by constructing and flying models. The senior members of the club give lectures to the new comers, passing on the valuable information that they have gleaned by years of experience. Near Room No. 331, there is on display some of the finished products which have come out of hours of precise labor and the Aero Club's workshop. This exhibition not only attracts many young aspirants into joining the organization, but also demonstrates one type of the varied talents that the students of B. H. S. possess.

ALPHA PI

Lights, Speech, and Presentations and once again the Honorary Society of Brookline High has initiated more members into its rank. Along with the symbolic key, comes the knowledge of having received one of the highest honors that the school can bestow upon any of its students.

The award is given those students who have shown themselves worthy of it by their excellence in studies and their participation in extra-curricular activities. The significance of Alpha Pi can truly be derived from its Greek translation—"excellence and leadership." It means hard work and a true interpretation of school spirit.

ART CLUB

Is it a bird? Is it a beast? Is it a fish?—No, just modern art.

The Art Club meets once a week in the Art Room and creates various masterpieces, depending upon the season. The members may sketch, work with water colors or clay, design Christmas cards or Thanksgiving menu covers for hospitals, or draw posters for other organizations. Occasionally, visits to various places of artistic interest are substituted for the regular meeting.

The members aid one another in furthering their art technique by helpful criticism. Some lazy member is always willing to pose if the members decide to sketch from life, and Miss Horn has an abundant supply of pencils and paints ready for the use of the ambitious artists. Always ready to encourage and advise, Miss Horn may yet turn out a Michelangelo or Rosa Bonheur from amongst her budding geniuses.

ART WORKSHOP

The stage is set—the play is on—the Art Workshop has completed its work. The Art Workshop is a small group which is responsible for the stage settings. Under the direction of Miss Horn, the ambitious members diligently strive to create perfection in their work. If the need be for soup, nuts, snakes or fire crackers, they'll do their best to satisfy. The hardy individuals who compose the group withstand banged fingers, dirt smudged faces, paint-covered work clothes and the rebukes of their parents for staying at school so late. But on opening night, when the curtain rises and the stage setting compliments their efforts, the satisfied feeling of achievement is worth all the blood, sweat and toil.

Faculty Advisor—MISS HORN

BAND

There's something about band music that sets your toe tapping and your spirits rising—that is a good band—and that's just what our Brookline High School Band is. The Band with smart uniforms and snappy march routines is perhaps, the most militaristic of our school activities, and like any military outfit, it requires "rugged" individuals to endure the strenuous activity. Mr. Joslin's patience and perseverance are responsible for the gratifying result. Not only does the Band achieve perfection in music but their marching has all the technique of the U. S. Infantry.

The Band plays a very active part in school and civic affairs. Playing at assemblies, on Class Day, at football and basketball rallies are just a few of the numerous services of the Band. Don't think the Band is all work and playing, for the members certainly experienced a great thrill when they led the football team on to the Class B. Championship.

Faculty Advisor—MR. JOSLIN

BANK STAFF

On every other Tuesday at B. H. S., the pupils, homerooms, and houses, engage in a very patriotic rivalry. They buy stamps and bonds and in so doing not only increase their room's percentage of purchasers, but also make good investments. The Bank Staff consists of the homeroom tellers, messengers, and those in Room 234 who tabulate the results, count the money and stamps, and do more general work in one hour than they would ordinarily do in a week. Through the Bank Staff, the students feel that they have participated in some way in improving the world of to-morrow.

CAMERA CLUB

Hold That Pose! . . . One Minute Longer . . . is the familiar cry of the camera club's members. This club is open to those who have a creative interest in any branch of the photographic field, such as printing, developing or enlarging films. The members participate in various contests and are given many opportunities to display samples of their work. At their meetings, plans for forthcoming events and displays are discussed and the members comment on present and future development of photography. The more active members often take snapshots of school events and some of the outstanding personalities at Brookline High. The club's dark room is at the disposal of all the members.

CENTRAL TREASURY

CHECK . . RECHECK . . and DOUBLE CHECK . . . is the monotonous but highly specialized work of the Central Treasury. This organization is composed of honor commercial students who wish to gain experience and efficiency. Under the able leadership of Mr. Ehnes, the Central Treasury provides accurate financial reports of all the organizations in the school. The bookkeepers and typists assist the treasurers of the various clubs who need assistance in keeping accurate financial records of their dues, expenses, and deposits. The Treasury is responsible for making reports to the Superintendant of Schools, and various other officials. Surely the knowledge and experience gained by the members of the Central Treasury is of equal importance to the valuable service they give to the school.

CHESS CLUB

Chess is a blank mystery to the uninitiative but is devious and exciting to the members of the B. H. S. Chess Club. In this sport the contestants exercise their brain matter and not their brawn. The Chess Club is little heard of in the school but there are enough members in it to have captured the championship for the four latest seasons. At an ordinary meeting, one that doesn't include an interscholastic tournament, the members of the Chess Club challenge one another to a game. This challenging and the resultant victories and defeats determine the temporary standing of each member. The first ten in these standings are Brookline's contestants for the next attempt to retain Brookline High's position at the top of all teams.

CLOTHING CLUB

To "sew a fine seam" is the ambition of the members of the Clothing Club. A member can be spotted in a crowd by her finely sewn, stylish clothes. The Clothing Club goes on trips to fashion shows and each member designs her own version of the current fashion. Not only does this club give a material value in the clothes the members make and the color harmony necessary for glamorous and becoming costumes but also gives them skill in this fine old art and provides afternoons of social activities with sister students.

COURT OF JUSTICE

The Court of Justice is the judicial branch of the School Council. It is to the Marshall Force what the courts are to the police force. It is composed of a Chief Justice and eight Associate Justices. He who has erred must listen to the case which the Prosecuting Attorney—Captain of the Marshals—presents against him. He may be defended by counsel of his own choosing. He may produce witnesses in his favor to face witnesses against him. This is all a very fair procedure—the integrity of the Court unquestioned. Being tried by one's fellow students—students who may still remember times when they have stumbled from the long and narrow path,—leads to justice and a determination by the student body to adhere to the laws of the School Council.

DEBATING SOCIETY

Knock! Knock! Knock! (that's Elaine Tanner's gavel). "The meeting will now come to order", (that's Elaine Tanner). "The Debating Society is now in session". Through the use of parliamentary procedure, the gavel and Elaine's authority, the meeting progresses in an orderly fashion to accomplish the day's business. Business includes discussion of opponents, subjects and dates for future inter-scholastic and inter-mural debates. President Elaine Tanner and Secretary Warren Carvior aid in the voting, and explanation of motions, amendments, and "amendments to amendments". Brookline High School is justly proud of the Debating Society which has a truly commendable record of victories—"Not for just an hour, nor for just a day, but always". The student body holds in pride and high esteem the Debating Society.

FOODS CLUB

What's cooking? Yes, here we are once again at a meeting of the Girls' Foods Club which meets once every two weeks under the most able supervision of Miss South. This year something new has been added in that the Girls' Foods Club, together with the Clothing and Social Customs Clubs, has joined the organization called "The Future Homemakers of America". By being shown how to make food tempting, delicious, wholesome, and nutritious, the members of this society not only learn the right (and only?) way to a man's heart, but also the right way to become a success as a "future homemaker of America".

"Oh to be in England now that April's there" is the unexpressed desire of many members of the French Club. However, besides learning how to speak French, as is the basic rule during the meetings, the members are also introduced to the famous Fransçais and Fransçaises of French history. The program of the Club during a regular meeting consists of the business and then a social meeting. The latter part usually is composed of either a play or a story and is completed with the serving of refreshments.

GERMAN CLUB

Willkommen! President Howard Allen opens the meeting with an address of greeting in German telling of the plans for the meeting. Mr. Friedland, prodding "die mitglieder des Vorcins" to "Sprechen sie Deutsch", keeps the meeting lively with his witty comments on the actions of the more active members of the club. The meetings give the members an idea of old German pre-fascist culture by examining old German relics, viewing moving pictures of Germany, and visiting the Germanic Museum in Cambridge. The club is keeping up with the present also, being well informed of Hitler's Germany and our reconstruction problems.

GIRL SCOUTS

"A friend in need is a friend indeed" so the saying goes, and in this case that friend is the organization called the Girl Scouts. Now that the war is over, the Girl Scouts of Brookline High School do not feel that their job of rolling bandages, which was done faithfully every Thursday last year, is finished. That was only the beginning. This year, by sending bundles of badly needed clothing to the French people who were robbed of their homes and the necessities of life, and by making toys to amuse little children confined to their beds in hospitals, the Girl Scouts are certainly earning the name of true "friend".

GIRLS' LEAGUE

The Girls' League is the school-wide organization known to every girl from the eighth grade through her senior year in high school. She first becomes acquainted with the League by attending B.H.S.' annual Eighth Grade Party. In her freshman year the student looks forward to the Freshman Mothers' Tea. All through high school years are the regular Friday afternoon meetings with entertainment, refreshments, a speaker, and dancing. This year welcomed the long awaited return of Junior and Senior Mothers' Tea. Each member of the Girls' League looks forward to the annual Supper Party in March which is distinguished for its fine cuisine and entertainment. The Girls' Auxiliary does splendid work in hospitals and settlement houses after completing special courses in these fields.

GIRLS' VOCAL ENSEMBLE

"Music hath charm" and so do the possessors of the unusually high trebles and strong rich contraltos selected from the Choral Society and blended together to compose the Girls' Vocal Ensemble.

These vocalists supply the "finishing touch" to school programs and assemblies such as Parents' Night, Christmas, and Memorial Day. At these times they display their individual talent before the school as a preview of their life work in the days yet to come—the days when the world will achieve new heights of liberty, equality, and fraternity.

LUNCHROOM STAFF

The flood's on! From behind the well-stocked counters of the lunchroom, the industrious members of the Lunchroom Staff, ladles in hand, stand armed to feed the rolling flood of famished humanity surging toward them. Serving and replenishing stock as fast as possible, they make a great effort to help force the hanging, panting tongues of the students back into a well-fueled alimentary canal. They sort the various sized dishes and collect the bottles in their cases with an indifference that can be gained only by repeated actions such as to be formed on an assembly line. "Thanks, thanks to thee my worthy friends."

MARINERS

Let it be said that the B.H.S. Mariners is not merely an organization but a group of girls to be looked upon with great admiration. This group has spent many hours working at the ration board, doing hospital work, and other noteworthy war services. During wartime the Mariners didn't spend much time at sailing and learning the work of sailors. Now, however, the girls can once more go back to their sea life. They can again tie sailors' knots and become acquainted with nautical customs. To belong to this group one must have been a Girl Scout and passed her swimming test or Junior Life Saving. Anyone who can fill these qualifications and is interested in the rudiments of seafaring should greatly enjoy being a member of this very worthy organization. Don't forget—"Westwood Ho!"

MUSIC SOCIETY

Music—The expression of man's emotions. We all have moods in which we want to hear music which is soothing and which sets our minds to travelling. We all look to some form of music. The Music Society was formed with the express purpose of better acquainting the students with the more serious or classical music. It was organized through the interest of the students themselves. The Society meets once a month in the music room of the High School. There is usually a speaker who describes some form of music or instrument. The remaining part of the meeting is spent listening to Brahms, Mozart, Tschaikowsky, or some other great composer. Here one has a chance to discuss the different forms of music; their relation to one another and their differences. This club is highly recommended to those who can really call themselves great music lovers.

THE ORCHESTRA

We may not have "the sweetest music this side of heaven," "The Music Makers" or "The College Of Musical Knowledge," but we do have our own special variety of sweet music, music makers and musical knowledge in our Brookline High School Orchestra.

Lucia "Harry James" Smith and her trumpet supply competition for "The Music Makers," our drummer wields a mean drum-stick (and we don't mean a chicken's leg) in true Gene Krupa style, Elaine "Horowitz" Tanner, Harriet "Iturbi" Tarlin and Margie "Cavallero" Wells are our three pianists, Matthew "Heifetz" Sherman is one of the members of our string section, and Elaine "Woody Herman" Ruskin, who doubles on the oboe and Dick "Benny Goodman" Berkowitz are among our clarinetists. These musicians represent only a small portion of our large school orchestra. Take these ingredients, add generous portions of strings, wood-winds, reeds and brass, have Mr. Joslin stir gently until blended and the results are almost always perfection.

ORPHEUS ENSEMBLE

If you like "long hair stuff" rather than "jive"; prefer your music "presto" rather than "hot"; if you enjoy Grieg in preference to Goodman; Debussy to Dorsey; Mozart to Mercer; Bach, Beethoven and Brahms to Basie; or if you like both equally well, the Orpheus Ensemble is what you have been looking for to supply the more cultural music. Mr. Burbank's musicians concern themselves with performing with perfection the more cultural forms of music. The Ensemble entertains with all the polish of professional musicians at various social functions. They are always a source of great enjoyment for all those who are privileged to hear the so-called "high brow stuff" as performed by the Orpheus Ensemble.

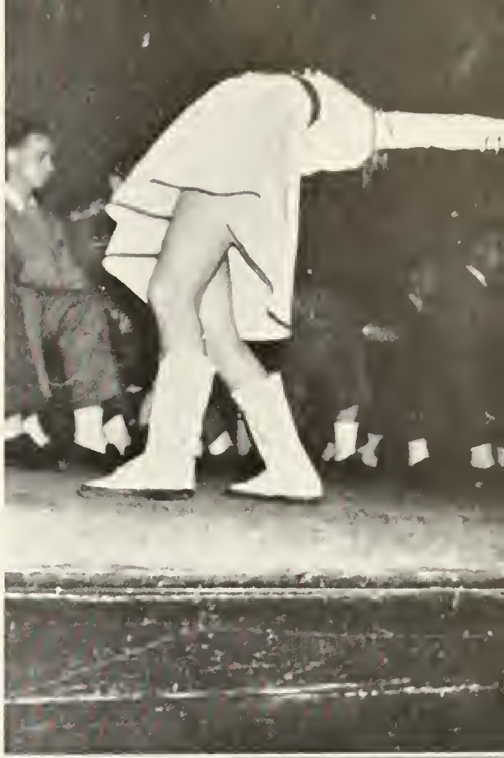
PEP CLUB

Something new has been added. The Pep Club looks with an air of satisfaction at the red and blue beanies and pins which it has brought to aid spirit at Brookline High. It has been remarked that school spirit here has reached a new peak and this is due in no small way to the Pep Club which has done so much to encourage attendance at all school contests.

One of their innovations this year is the "red and blue group" which includes voluntary students who attend all of the games and cheer our team on to victory. It's the Pep Club that sponsors the snake dance on Thanksgiving Eve and is responsible for the notices on the blackboards and in the office reports. Our hats off to a fine job.



RADIO CLUB

The Radio Club is composed of students who are interested in radio production and its different phases. It gives them a chance for practical application in an atmosphere of mikes, sound effects, and recording machines. As a group, the members of the club write, act, and produce radio plays. In the constitution of the Club, it is stated that once every year, the Radio Club must give a presentation to the entire school and each year the Club has done this with great success. At the meetings, the members discuss future plans and enjoy a discourse. The Radio Club certainly gives one a chance to learn the technique of radio production.

RED CROSS

"GIVE — GIVE — AND THEN GIVE SOME MORE." This is the call of the American Red Cross for the "war is never over for the Red Cross." There is a Red Cross representative in every homeroom of B. H. S., and he urges with the help of posters, movies, speakers, and other auditorium programs, the need of giving to this famous and extremely worthwhile organization—this band stretching around the world helping humanity. The students not only give money but when the call comes, they give unsparingly of their time and energy. We all belong to the Red Cross—we are the Red Cross.

SAGAMORE

Freedom of Speech! One of the four freedoms of our world at peace! One of the things men fought and died for. The "Sagamore" is a shining example of this ideal and the newsmen of Brookline High School carry the banner with honor both to themselves and to the spirit of Brookline High. News is presented accurately; ideas enthusiastically. The "Sagamore" unites organizations of the school and stimulates interest with scores of sports events, results of tournaments, comments on school activities, by introducing personalities and spotlighting achievements of the school. The "Sagamore" of Brookline High School is truly a symbol of democracy.

The School Council of Brookline High School is modeled after a well-run government. It is a government of the students. Its constitution is impressive and clear. It is the society that is responsible for all other organizations of the school. The Council grants charters to extra-curricular activities, acts as intermediary in disputes involving student organizations, and regulates student government elections. It is responsible for order in the lunchroom and corridors. It does its work well and in a quiet, efficient manner.

It may be presented in the form of a speaker whose subject may range from table manners to proper dress for different occasions. The object of the Social Customs Club is to prepare its members to make contacts with other people and in doing so, "mind their manners", be courteous to others and socially poised. STAGE AND ELECTRICAL STAFF

It is said that "the play's the thing", but what would a play be without lighting and sound effects? When the curtain goes up and the lights flash upon the stage, it is the work of the Stage and Electrical Staff. The staff has been so well trained that a mistake in lighting, sound effects, or dropping the curtain at the wrong time is almost impossible. For all the hard work that is done, there is great compensation for the members; for they see what goes on back stage and have a chance to become well acquainted with the members of the cast. We are all proud of the work which the Stage and Electrical Staff has done to help in making a success of our school productions.

STAMP AND COIN CLUB

A new mode of travel—stamps. We have at one time or another an urge to travel. The Stamp Club offers one a method of traveling which requires no automobile, train, airplane, or boat. Through stamps one may travel the globe to any place he wishes; be it north, south, east, west, island, peninsula, or country. At a regular meeting there is trading, and even a chance to buy or sell stamps. Stamps are discussed by the members and at each meeting some member speaks of his own particular collection.

This year in addition to the Stamp Club, the coin division has been formed. This division holds its meetings right along with the Stamp Club with trading, buying, or selling. So you see if you belong to the Stamp Club you not only can travel but have money too.

STUDENT FORUM

The Student Forum is one of the most recently added attractions at Brookline High School and one of the most popular societies, too. This organization was formed three years ago so that the students could have the opportunity to discuss freely and have discussed for them by guest speakers, current affairs and world problems.

The club stimulates the students' desire to gain information and knowledge about many intricate and debatable subjects such as atomic energy, postwar Japan, and the problems of maintaining world peace. The Student Forum is one of the most democratic societies of Brookline High School, as it continues to provide a true example of freedom of speech in the world today.

TOUCHDOWN CLUB

Friday night's the night; that's when the Touchdown Club gathers. The club is open to all who belong to the freshman, junior varsity or varsity football squads. At various meetings throughout the year the members of the club not only have the opportunity of viewing motion pictures of college football games, but also of seeing themselves in action. During the course of the year the club sponsors, with the Pep Club, the Red and Blue Sports Dance and the Faculty-Varsity basketball game. In May, the club holds its annual banquet, culminating the year's activities, thus furthering the members' outlook on the world of football.

B. H. S. CHORAL SOCIETY

Do, re, mi, fa, sol, la, ti, don't sing so loudly—don't be afraid to open your mouths as wide as possible—don't move your heads so much. These are a few of the don'ts the girls of the Choral Society are warned against. The members of the Choral Society devote long hours of practice to achieve success and acquire voice perfection. The Society sings all types of melodies from operatic to popular songs. Mr. Burbank, Faculty Advisor, has much outstanding talent. Undoubtedly, some of the country's future "Kate Smiths" are having their beginning right here in the B. H. S. Choral Society.

DRAMATIC SOCIETY

Sorry! Sold Out . . . was the asnwer received by those who were late in getting tickets for any of the Dramatic Society's performances this past year. The members of the various casts, aided by Miss Critchell, Mr. Flemings, and Mr. Gould outdid themselves in the record breaking production of "You Can't Take It With You", and " Pride and Prejudice." As we have all seen, many of those who starred in either of these plays are definitely headed for bright futures in the lights of Broadway. Many of these young actors and actresses are professional material who will help make the future success of dramatics more elaborate and more outstanding than we know it to be today.

ENGLISH CLUB

Do you enjoy poetry and prose? Do you want to become intellectual and cultured? Hmmmmm? Well, with an honor grade in English you are eligible for membership in the select English Club. As a member, one attends the monthly meetings and hears fellow members participate in quizzes, give book reviews and other equally interesting, intellectual, and cultural activities. The club has at least one guest speaker each year, visits places of literary interest and sponsors the annual Creative Writing Contest which is one of the year's most important events. The club awards prizes to the two who submit the best contributions in poetry or prose as judged by an impartial group of judges. LIBRARY STAFF 14 Days or Overnight . . . that's as long as you are allowed to keep a book borrowed from the high school's efficient and worthy library. Those who make this valuable service possible are members of the Library Staff who volunteer their time during study periods or before and after school. Their tasks are numerous but their main object is to keep things running smoothly with your cooperation. The members of the Staff under the direction of Mrs. Siebens and Miss Coon, sort books, keep track of overdue books, and help pupils find whatever they desire in the library. Besides being useful to the school these young people gain clerical experience and a vast knowledge of books, all of which may prove useful in placing them in the complicated business and professional world to come.

MARSHAL FORCE

"Pardon me, would you kindly keep to the right of the marshal?"

"Certainly, I'm sorry."

This dialogue initiates the incoming students to the Marshal Force—student government's right arm. As we all eventually learn in history, a democracy includes not only a legislative and judicial branch but also an executive branch. At Brookline High this is the Marshal Force.

These marshals with their significant arm bands, elected by all the pupils, efficiently take care of the corridors and the lunch room. They are headed by the Captain of Marshals and are divided into the floor marshals and the lunch room marshals. These groups also are under the supervision of special marshals, and the entire system makes for efficiency.

To enforce their orders, the Marshal Force may send offenders to the Court of Justice, so "Please keep to the right."

VARSITY FOOTBALL

"Victory or die"! And this year during the football season Brookline High's Football Team compiled such a record that they ended up Class "B" Champions. Under the very capable tutelage of Coach Harry Downes, our gridiron representatives came through a gruelling season on top of the heap. Although some performances by various individuals were outstanding, the records prove that it was necessary for every single member of the squad to give "his all" in order to have produced such a remarkable team. In no other time during our history in school has such enthusiasm by the school body been shown as was apparent during the football season. No other time was the result so gratifying.

JUNIOR VARSITY FOOTBALL

The only reason that many members of the Junior Varsity Football Team were not playing on the Varsity was because of the exceptional team that took the field for Brookline High in Varsity competition. Many promising athletes began to shape up during the season and these will doubtless provide excellent material for future Brookline teams. Arduous practice sessions and the result of competing in games with outside schools comprised the Jayvees schedule this year. Reports from their coach prove that all this toil was not fruitless.

WINTER TRACK

The Track Team—led by Coach Bates and Captain Murray Pearlstein—was a well-balanced organization but lacked really outstanding representation in some events. Pearlstein, popular leader and sensational dash man, was the backbone of B. H. S. scoring throughout the year. John Nahigian, splendid 600-yarder and quarter-miler, finished out his high school career. Jim Misho, capable shot-putter, and Vincent Filippone, broad jumper and shot-putter, carried the load in the field events along with Stan Krigman in the high jump. Henry Hart, Alan West, Pal McKenzie, Phil Dalton, Clint Koufman and Peter Theodos were the outstanding distance men. Courageous and capable Joe Pickett did a fine job in the shorter distances, while Sid Cohen, Dick LeVine, Neil Werner, Saul Helpern, Fred Caploe, Larry Harrison, and Paul Goldman showed promise. Lou McGarry, Roger Aeschliman, Howard Leavitt, Steve Feinberg, Teddie Green, Frankie Carreio, Alan Fain, Jim Greenberg, and Ed Segal added points to the B. H. S. total.

CROSS COUNTRY

Handicapped by loss of talent to the service and to the football team, Coach Bates was forced to choose a regular cross-country squad from only a handful of candidates for the track season. Alan West, unheralded Senior, turned out to be the bright spot in a dim campaign. The slim plodder ran well in all three dual meets and in the State meet, Alan won a medal by finishing fourteenth. Dick Gilman, a senior out for track for the first time and Phil Dalton, one of the Sophomore twins, ran consistently throughout the season. Howard Crombie, courageous senior, was a valuable member of the squad and among the top ten B. H. S. runners, Edmund Cotter, Ed Segal, Pal McKenzie, and John Nahigan, all seniors, did a fine job in a rather futile cause. Freshmen Fred Caploe and Paul Murray showed great promise. Brookline lost dual meets to Weymouth, Rockland, and Arlington, and fared poorly in the State meet.

ROW 1: Levenson, Mgr., Gilman, Dalton, West, Crombie, Mr. Bates. ROW 2: Murray, Cotter, Seigal, Caploe, Nahigian. ROW 3: Maiella, Epstein.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Very few veterans returned to this year's Varsity Basketball squad and so Coach Ed Bruce had to call on reserves from the Jayvees to complete his roster. Although the team did not fare very well in Suburban League competition, the main feature of their season was their ability to cope with the league-leading arch rival—Newton. At Boston Garden, Newton had a very difficult time in obtaining the decision and at Newton High, the home players had to resort to an overtime period to eke out a 34-32 win. Although not champions, the team deserves great credit for its sportsmanship, and Mr. Bruce for his splendid coaching.

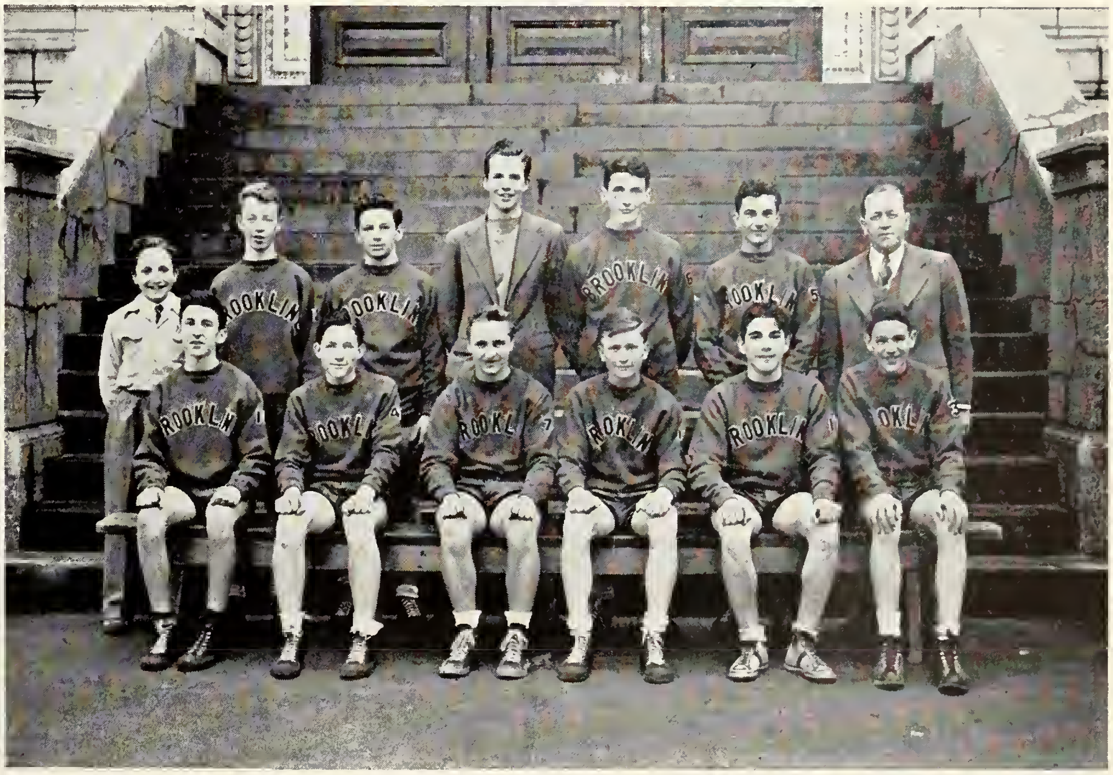
JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

Despite the fact that the ranks of last year's Jayvees had been broken by advancements to the Varsity, newcomers forming this year's team proved that there is much talent to be had in the form of basketball players at Brookline High. The highlight of the season came when they played and defeated the Touchdown Club by a decisive score. Used to scrub the Varsity throughout the season, the Jayvees will inevitably form the nucleus of teams to come. With Mr. Bruce doubling as coach for both teams, he is well aware of the potentialities of the Junior Varsity and it is estimated that it will produce fine future ball clubs.



ROW 1: Rubin, MacDonald, Tucker, Sullivan, Barron, McKenzie. ROW 2: Sostek (Mgr.), Foster, Cohen, Willis (Mgr.), Robeson, Mayo, Mr. Bruce.

SEATED: Burgess, Mr. Woodlock, Meaney. STANDING: Ouimet, McGinnis, Mullins, Corcoran.

GOLF

With at least three former players returning to tee off for Brookline at the start of the season, and with the continuance of Coach Woodlock at their helm, this year's B. H. S. Golf "Club" should certainly hold its own with its competitors. Due to the fact that it is one of the unheralded sports at Brookline High, there are not too many rabid fans watching the matches or even trying out for the team. With a little more interest in it, Brookline could boast of a good Golf Team—all of the requisite facilities being available. The members deserve a lot of success in their coming season.

SWIMMING

As predicted last year, this year's swimming team was far superior to that of last year. Although the season wasn't successful as far as winning meets was concerned, many former and new members of this aquatic group amassed a great many points. To the above facts, add that the nucleus of the point-getters return to the school next year and you have our reasons for predicting a banner team in the water—or rather on the water—for Brookline High. Even if they have to crawl on the water to do it. Brookline is out for points and wins when it competes with outside schools.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

In recent years not much has been said about freshmen athletic teams. This year, however, there is good reason to write up the freshman football team. It is often hard to make long range judgments or predictions but it seems that this year's freshman team is a bigger and better team than reported to Coach Tom Fitzgerald three years ago and eventually wound up as this year's Class "B" Champions. There were many outstanding features of the season and the players should, in future years at Brookline High, give a good account of themselves.

VARSITY BASEBALL

With all the earmarks of a successful season, this year's baseball team is one of the best ever produced by Brookline High. The many returning veteran lettermen, with last year's Jayvees to fill up the gaps, should combine to form a team equal to any of those in the league. There is little doubt that this year's nine will be strong in all fields with a small question mark in the pitching situation. In past years the team's fielding has been good, and this year the team, on paper, is comprised of some rather good batters also. Early practice sessions for the battery seem to show that Brookline High is in for a good season in baseball.

ROW 1: Kurwitz, Wayne, Fineberg, Simons, Moffie, Bennet, Misho.
ROW 2: Mr. Fitzgerald, Taylor, McGary, Fay, Leavitt, Greenberg, McLaren, Freedberg.
ROW 3: Hart, Filipone, McGoven, Orent, McPhee, Robinson, Adamson.

TENNIS

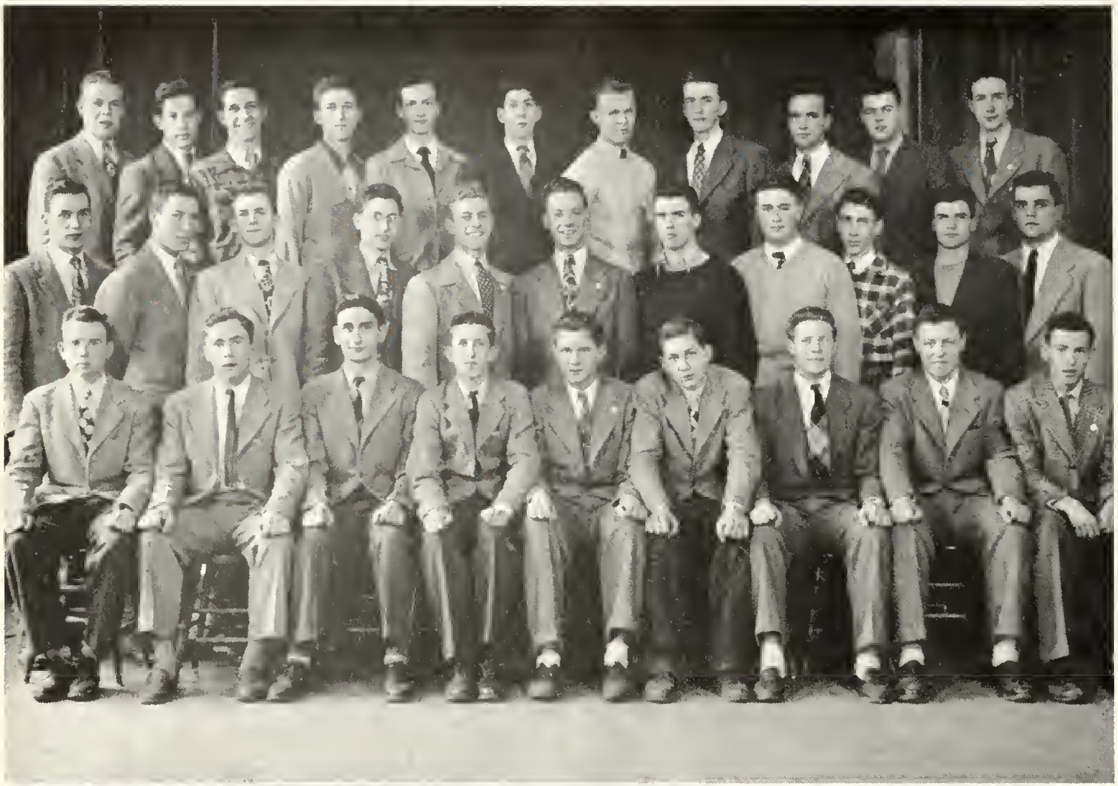
The surprising ability of many undergraduates to compete with and defeat many graduating tennis players is the reason for the appearance of the young racqueteers on this year's Tennis Team. Tennis is one of the comparatively unheralded sports at Brookline High. But our Tennis Team does not labor in vain. We are hereby giving great credit to its captain, Joel Leavitt; its coach, Mr. Wells; and each member of the team. We are sure our team will win by superiority over all competitors.

ROW 1: Dukakis, Baker, Schon, Leavitt, Tarlin, Harrison, Sudman.
ROW 2: E. Leavitt, White, Lehrburger, Resnick, Mr. Wells, Kaufman, Wogan, Raymond, Mirsky, Silver.

HOCKEY

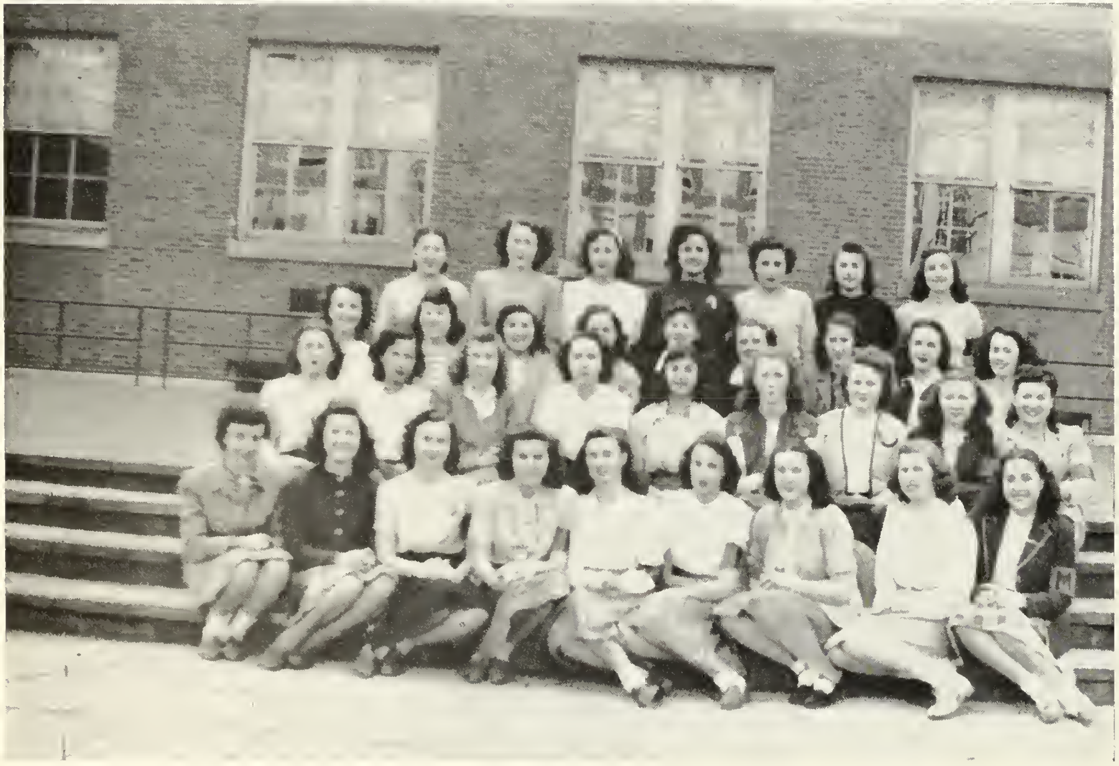
Building for future years, Coach Clem McCann, a recent addition to Brookline's Faculty, has filled the ranks of the Hockey Team with many undergraduates, including a very promising freshman line. Since Dana Estes left for a prep school, the goal tending responsibilities were handed over to Tommy Taylor who showed himself rather worthy in the nets. The comparatively weak team was livened up by the addition late in the season of Gundy Kirrane. Brookline's record in the Eastern Massachusetts League was not too bad and the youth of the team promises a good future for hockey at Brookline High.

ROW 1: Blanchard, Palmer, McPhee, Fay, Kingston, Kirrane, Taylor.
ROW 2: Mr. McCann, J. Buckley, West, Himml, McAdams, Hines, McKinnon, P. Buckley, Hart.



Senior Lettermen

ROW 1: West, Burgess, Nahigian, Tarlin, Meany, Hartmen, Donahue, Noymer, Simonds. ROW 2: Rich, Moffie, Leavitt, Wayne, Pearlstein, Bennet, Hart, Fisher, Osgood, Fay, Misho. ROW 3: Coyne, Barron, Fillipone, Chauncy, Gilman, Levenson, Caulfield, Leach, Williams, McGillivray, McDonald.



Old Engliish "B"

ROW 1: Kagan, Tarlin, Yip, Moran, Krafsur, Cappers, Keith.
ROW 2: Castelman, Noonan, Miss Sherman, Kelleher, Erlich.

VARSITY FIELD HOCKEY

One of the major sports! Hockey! Fifty enthusiastic girls under the direction of Miss Sherman play games among themselves and with other schools. Twice a week, one may see these eager girls playing a quick and skillful game. Pauline Moran—the captain, Marjorie Ball, and Virginia Keith—the next year's captain, are the strong men on the team. Yes, our team was defeated when playing Needham, but we are reminded that "it's not who wins or loses but how we play the game".

JUNIOR VARSITY FIELD HOCKEY

It's new! It's exciting! It's fun! It's the JayVee Hockey team for girls. To learn the fundamentals and technique of the game so they will be eligible for the varsity when they become more proficient is the aim of each girl. The JayVee team was formed as a training ground for the varsity team and to give more girls an opportunity to be on a team. The hockey stars of the future at B. H. S. are learning the "tricks of the trade" in this newly formed team.

ROW 1: Stronach, Brodie, Jones, Cimeno, Burns, Olien, Lenk.

GYM TEAM

Up she goes and over (we know)! It's the Girls' Gym Team in action. Over horses and boxes, through barriers, and all in perfect form these girls are a delight to the eye and a credit to B.H.S. They are a hand picked team and experts on all types of apparatus work. They can explain and demonstrate perfectly any type of vault, jump, etc., that is desired.

These girls have acquired their skill through years of practice but may be seen afternoons at the gym trying to improve. It is an honor to be on this team, for at B. H. S. we have so many athletes with the physical dexterity which is required that one must be a "super".

SEATED: Brody, Rubin, Krafsur, Fine, Woodbridge.
STANDING: Erlich, Falvey, Stenbuck, Olean, Frank.

TENNIS

There's nothing like the great outdoors—or so say the members of the Girls' Tennis Team. The girls utilize the fall and winter season for practicing and perfecting their backhand, forehand and serve. In the spring, they have tennis matches with other schools. This year under Miss Sherman's able leadership, the Girls' Tennis team has really learned to play an excellent game. It may not be the best but it is pretty hard to beat.

Besides the team, there are intermediate and beginners' tennis classes. The intermediate class is composed of girls who know how to play tennis but need more practice to perfect their game. The beginners are girls who have never played tennis before and must learn the fundamentals of the game. Tennis is lots of fun and teaches each girl good sportsmanship by competition.

ROW 1: Waldman, Tarlin, Newberg, Strecker, Nathan, Glazer, Cohen.
ROW 2: Feingold, Falvey, Lennon, Rogal, Tudor.

SWIMMING

In the not too distant future when autogyros will be replacing autos and radar vision taking the place of television and rocket trips to the moon superseding airplane jaunts to Europe, the names of B. H. S. girls will be replacing current aquatic stars. Esther Williams, Eleanor Holm, and Gertrude Ederle will cease to be heard. Instead, Muriel Strecker, Mary Ann Nathan, and Agnes Croke will be sensational. Already Mary Ann Nathan, Manager of the Varsity Swimming Team, does the backstroke for 25 yards in twenty-one seconds—four seconds behind Esther Williams. The Swimming Team meets every Wednesday afternoon in the pool. The Varsity Team is composed of the twenty best swimmers. There are meets and play days with other schools and colleges when the B. H. S. swimmers exhibit the professional talent they possess.

ARCHERY

Robin Hood—you've all heard of him. Well, he's got nothing on our B. H. S. girls. And talk about William Tell! Why, our girls could not only cut that apple in two, but they could take the seeds out, so well are they coached by Miss Kelly. These girls who practice every Monday do not play any teams during the year but the competitive spirit is present, for the girls whose scores are the six highest at the end of the year become members of the "honorary varsity" and gain twice as much credit towards an old English "B". But more important than anything else—all the girls have fun participating in this, the world's oldest sport.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

If you were to follow the crowd some sunny afternoon over to the girls' gym, you would most likely find that it was going to play basketball. As this is the most popular of all indoor sports in the High School, it is very understandable. This year more girls attended the basketball class than any other. There were twelve teams playing. The girls spent the beginning of the season practicing and the middle and end in intramural tournaments. The senior girls because of longer experience were superior to the others. In basketball one must be on her toes all the time. Basketball builds the mind as well as the body and gives good clean enjoyment to all who play.
